Introduction

Redefining Success Together.

Maximum transparency, fully community-driven and focus on the public good. GainSpot is a unique crypto community project aimed at reducing the power of large investors in the markets and distributing the resulting profits to the broader population. To achieve this, GainSpot is fully managed and controlled by the investors themselves, with all decisions made collectively and democratically.

With an organized community and the resulting mass intelligence, we can increase the influence and also generate more profits than individuals.

Our System

Our System

Transaction Fees

The transaction fees will be collected in the investment wallets weekly. The addresses of the wallets are public.

Discussions

New projects and investment opportunities will be searched, proposed and discussed in the Community groups (e.g. Shares, cryptocurrency, yield farming). After that, the community has one week to discuss about the individual proposals. If a proposal receives positive feedback from the community, the proposal is submitted to the Core Team..

Researches

All submitted proposals from the community will be discussed, evaluated, reviewed and approved from the Core Team. After that, a certain number of investment opportunities are released for voting.

Votings

The community decides weekly by majority vote in which projects the collected transaction fees should be invested. We have our own DApp for our votes. Here you can participate anonymously in our votes. votings.gainstoken.com

Our System

Profits

GainSpot generates profits through short and medium term investments. Furthermore, profits are generated with marketing and other business areas.

Buybacks & Burns

All earnings are used for buybacks and burns or for reinvestments. The community also decides on this by majority vote. Through the buybacks and burns, we achieve a price increase from which everyone benefits equally.

Communities
